CANM in Ottawa 2023

The Canadian Association of Nuclear Medicine (CANM) is pleased to be hosting the 2023 annual conference in Ottawa from October 18th to the 21st. This annual conference will feature some of the best specialists in the country and is intended to be a scientific learning opportunity.

As a partner, your commitment to support us in promoting the continued professional competence of nuclear medicine specialists, establishing guidelines of clinical practice, and encouraging biomedical research is needed today more than ever. Enclosed is our 2022 Sponsorship Packages, we invite you to review and look forward to your renewed commitment. Should you have other questions or special requests, please do not hesitate to let us know.
